[illegible] Attention Tendered Him along the Route to Yosemite.

[illegible]

The People Eager to get a Look at Him—Incidents of the Trip.

[illegible], Oct [illegible].—A dispatch from [illegible] station on the road to Yosemite says that General Grant and party arrived here at [illegible] evening, after an uneventful ride [illegible] Madera which they left at 7:15 A M. Previous to his departure from Madera he had a brief reception with citizens and [illegible] at Fresno. Among the number who [illegible] upon his return [illegible] were several Union and Confederate veterans. At Fresno Flat he received further congratulatory calls from Fresno county veterans. The coach which conveyed the party was handsomely decorated. Thirty-six horses were used on the trip, six changes being had. Upon the arrival of the party [illegible] they were met at the stage and welcomed by J. J. Bruce and S. Washburn and escorted to the parlor of the hotel, the Mariposa brass band which had crossed the mountains a distance of 30 miles to join the ceremonies playing "Hail to the Chief."

Dinner followed. After an informal reception in the hotel parlors the general was serenaded and retired at an early hour. This morning at 8 the party will enter the Yosemite valley. They will remain there until Monday, and will then return by the big trees and Merced to San Francisco.

The weather yesterday was delightful and less dust than anticipated was experienced. Along the route the people of the surrounding country were in strong force by noon of yesterday and patiently waited the coming of the stage. Gen Grant said, last evening that he was highly gratified by the attentions shown him, and appeared to be particularly interested in the band which is composed of young men of Mariposa from 14 to 19 years of age. The party is in excellent spirits and look forward to a very agreeable sojourn in Yosemite valley.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

Work Actually Begun at Snake River, Not to Stop till the Tracks Meet in Montana.

WALLULA, W T Oct 2 1879

Grading was commenced at 1 o'clock to-day on the Northern Pacific railroad at Ainsworth, the new town at the mouth of the Snake river. General Sprague was present in personal charge of the work, and as the representative of Frederick Billings president turned the first shovelful of earth with his own hands carrying the shovel home with him as a memento of the happiest day the company has seen for six years. The graders have commenced their steady progress eastward, which is not to be stopped until the tracks meet in Montana.

This Goes Straight to the Mark.

[From Harper's Weekly.]

Republicans who hold with us that the national government has an unquestionable right to defend national elections within the state do not wish to see any necessity for such defense. They would greatly prefer that the opinion of the community should protect the rights of every citizen in the south, as it generally does in "the north," and southerners who sincerely regret sectionalism ought to see that the remedy is in their own hands, and that there will be no southern question, no firing the northern heart, no mere partisan appeal to the war and its memories the instant that there is seen to be the same respect for the political rights of all citizens in one section of the country that there is in all other sections. On the other hand, so long as those rights are notoriously and flagrantly denied and violated there will be a bloody shirt, and whoever is disgusted and "tired to death" with that garment should address himself energetically to southern and not to northern leaders. It would be a ridiculous rag except for democratic action, and if the southern democratic authorities should insist that colored voters should not be harried and terrorized but should be protected in voting, the bloody shirt would shrivel and disappear. It is in vain to sneer at republicans for asserting the principle of equal rights.

Very Peculiar Testimony.

[From the Cincinnati Enquirer.]

Some startling scientific testimony is promised for the trial of the Rev Mr. Hayden for the murder of Mary Stannard, in Connecticut. She was killed by a stab from a knife blade. Her relations with Hayden were such as to suggest that he was the murderer. There was no positive evidence. Under the microscope, blood was discovered on Hayden's blade. Science was certain that it was human blood. Hayden said that science was right; he had cut his finger with it. The evidence was corroborated by his wife. Then science took the muscles and flesh about the wound in Mary Stannard's neck and resolved them into their elements. A mere speck of solid matter remained. Under the microscope it appeared a tiny bit of rusty steel. "Now the glass is run along the blade of the Rev Mr. Hayden's knife, on which Prof White found blood. There are one or two little nicks easily seen in it, too large to match this little piece. At last a defect is discovered. It seems as though the little specks on the white paper if applied to this defect, would just fit it, and by the most delicate manipulation the fitting is successfully done, and the prosecuting officers are informed that the savants have discovered a speck of iron that dropped from the fleshy parts around the wound that just fits a nick in the blade of the Rev Hayden's knife.

State Supremacy Doctrine.

Mr Clarkson N Potter is the strongest man on the democratic state ticket of New York but he has his weak points. One of these is his connection with the ridiculous investigation of the president's title, and another is his record as an original secessionist. In the course of a speech while a member of congress he made the following astounding declaration:

> The theory of equality among states is right. I was myself an extreme states rights man. I am about to declare what I presume few men in the house would venture to admit—that if I was to make a constitution for the future government of rising states I would put a provision in it whereby a sufficient number or proportion of these states might go out of the union whenever they pleased; for I believe good government can in the long run only be maintained by being in accordance with the interests of those who are under it. I am convinced that whenever the real interests of a great section prompt it to go out of such a union it should be allowed to go.

An Amended Text.

[From the Boston Transcript.]

Evidently Richard Grant White was not the first to bring forward emendations of the Shakespearean text and hence the blindness of many passages therein must not be wholly ascribed to his instrumentality. Take for instance this: "Hang out our banners on the outward wall; the cry is, still they come." Now it would be simply puerile to presume that Macbeth should order the banners suspended from the outward wall where the insolent foe who were still coming could so easily capture them. Now supposing a quite natural inference that the women of those days banged their hair, what more sensible proposition from one of Macbeth's temperament than to "Hang all the banners on the outward wall; the cry is 'still they comb.'" Accept this solution and the passage becomes radiant with light.

The Maine Liquor Law.

[Report of British Consul.]

A long residence of nearly fourteen years in this state (Maine) has given me unusual opportunity of studying this question and I have no hesitation in affirming that with the exception of some isolated villages the Maine prohibition law is a failure in the larger towns and cities; that the actual good it may have produced has been more or less counterbalanced by the hypocrisy and consequent demoralization of a class who though nominally and politically prohibitionists are not consistent in their conduct, and of which I have daily proof.

Read Out the "Conservatives."

[From the Okolona States.]

Let the democracy read the conservatives out of their councils.

Let them proclaim that the United States is not a nation.

Let them swear by the Lord God Omnipotent that it never shall be a nation.

Let them teach the radicals that they are ready to stand by this oath at whatever cost, And all will yet be well.

BY MAIL AND TELEGRAPH.

Gen Grant's Position.

[illegible]—The [illegible] says: We [illegible] opposed to deprecate the [illegible] Grant [illegible] this [illegible] that the reception which has been given him [illegible] spontaneous [illegible] sincere and [illegible]. There can be [illegible] the conduct of the democrats during the recent extra session of congress and [illegible] in the southern states by the ex-confederates [illegible] thinking men [illegible] consideration of the [illegible] for the next incumbent of the presidential [illegible]. There has not been the slightest evidence tending to show that Grant has sought that position. The [illegible] fact about which there can be no reasonable doubt is that the [illegible] with its determination to repress secession and rebellion in whatever form they may make themselves obnoxious. The fullest and fairest opportunity has been given to the south to show its [illegible] to the constitution and laws with the reserve of all legitimate state rights. But with indestructible states there must be an indissoluble union with all that is legally implied respecting the powers of the federal government. The [illegible] with the [illegible] of [illegible]. But the principle of obedience, the fundamental law will be insisted upon and that in the election of such candidates by the republican party as have the entire confidence of loyal people both as to their ability and firmness. The present feeling toward General Grant is one of gratitude for what he has done and it becomes one of hopefulness for what he may do.

Modifying the Burlingame Treaty.

New York, Sept 29.—The Herald's Washington special says: It is understood that our minister to China has nearly completed a modification of the Cushing and Burlingame treaties which will discourage the emigration of the lower orders of Chinese. The modifications are intended to especially promote trade and not emigration and place the merchants of each country on a commercial equality. It is believed this important work would have been accomplished many months ago if Seward had not been called home last winter to meet the attempt to impeach him.

Seward's object in returning to China, after the adjournment of the forty-fifth congress was to conclude the negotiations on this subject. The modified treaties will, doubtless be submitted to the senate early in December.

Since the establishment of the Chinese legation in Washington it has been generally understood that it was the intention of the Chinese government to harmonize its commercial relations with the leading nations and to place such restrictions upon the forced coolie trade as will effectually prevent it.

With this view, the recent negotiations have been concluded with Spain, permitting the establishment of a Chinese consulate general at Havana, with subordinate consulates at other Cuban ports. The consul general accompanied by several officials, left Washington yesterday for Cuba. On their arrival a census of the Chinese population of that Island will be taken.

It is said that among the class of Chinamen kidnapped from English and Portuguese ports in China, are many of education whose position in China was not that of servitude.

What Shall they do with It?

New York, Sept 28.—A Herald Washington special says: The accumulation of gold bullion at the assay office in New York City is becoming so great that the treasury officials are concerned as to what shall be done with it. Under the act requiring the coinage of standard silver dollars the bulk of the coinage falls on the Philadelphia mint. Its capacity is so taxed in coining standard dollars that it is impossible to coin small subsidiary coins. The bronze cent pieces, which are also coined at Philadelphia, are in demand but cannot be supplied. The existing law in regard to silver coinage, it is thought at the treasury will be modified by congress at the coming session. Congressman Muller of New York came here last week for the purpose of consulting with the officials in regard to the establishment of a mint in New York City the necessity for which was readily recognized by the director of the mint. It is the intention of Muller to introduce a bill for the building of a new mint in New York City when congress meets. He was assured that the opposition which the Pennsylvania delegation has heretofore urged against the establishment of a mint in New York City would not operate against its claims for increased facilities and as the government has valuable property in New York City, the sale of which would more than pay for the building of a large mint and its perfect equipment in that city, there was no reason why the mint facilities demanded should not be given to New York.

Tilden's Anxiety about Ohio.

Washington, Sept 27.—The Hon Richard T Merrick the well known attorney of this city, and one of the counsel for Mr Tilden before the electoral commission has recently spent a day with Mr Tilden and had a general talk in regard to the political situation. Mr Merrick says that he found him, more solicitous in regard to carrying Ohio than over anything else in political affairs—much more so than over New York. He considers Gen Ewing's success as almost vital to the democracy, and he was willing to do everything in his power to contribute to it. He urged Mr Merrick to proceed at once to Ohio, and enter upon the campaign work there. He was so anxious to have Ewing elected that he did not wish to neglect anything which could contribute to that result. Mr Tilden also expressed himself freely in regard to the situation in New York. He felt confident that this earnest effort of the democracy of the state to crush Tammany would command the support of many independent republicans. He felt sure that more of this class would vote for Robinson than would be drawn off by Kelly. He regarded Tammany as having long been before the people the heaviest load New York democrats had ever carried, and he thinks if it can be beaten now it will remove the only serious obstacle to democratic success in that state in 1880. From the tenor of Mr Merrick's conversation it is evident that Mr Tilden considers the question of his nomination by the next democratic convention as already settled in his favor. It is also evident from the earnest interest he expressed in Gen. Ewing's success that the hard money democrats of the east do not intend to make any trouble with their western soft money brethren on account of their financial heresies.

Grant for President.

New York, Sept 29.—A Times special from Raleigh N C says: Col Thomas B Keogh chairman of the republican state committee was in this city some days ago, in company with Judge Thomas Settle, of Florida. These two gentlemen had just returned from a tour through the northern states. In the course of their travels they met and talked over the political situation and the policy of the party for the next year with Senators Conkling, Carpenter, Logan, Cameron and Chandler. So far as their investigations extended Gen Grant is the choice of nine tenths of the republicans for president, because it is believed that he can be elected, because under his candidacy the entire republican vote of the solid south would be rallied and aroused, because there would be more reason to expect a free election and fair count with Grant as the republican candidate.

Greece and Turkey Arming.

London, Sept. 28.—A Constantinople correspondent telegraphs: It is thought that an understanding between Greece and Turkey is impossible. Warlike preparations are progressing on both sides. It is the opinion here that Austria is obstructing the efforts for an understanding and that in the event of hostilities she would immediately occupy Macedonia. Prince Lobanoff is the bearer of a project for an alliance between Russia and Turkey. It is rumored that Russia is willing to renounce the 800 000 000 francs of war indemnity and to give back some of the former provinces of Turkey in Asia.

Republican Movements in New York.

New York, Sept 27.—The Herald says: The republican county and state committees work together in the greatest harmony and there appears to be no dissension whatever in camp. The latter body have made preliminary arrangements for many meetings to take place throughout the state and more particularly this city. It is intended to organize such demonstrations in New York as never have been seen before. If Grant should come east this fall a monster reception is on the tapis and he will be asked to lend his aid to the Cornell campaign as far as practicable. Blaine will be requested to stump and invitations of a similar character will be extended to Chandler, Garfield, Hawley, General Adam King of Maryland and Grow of Pennsylvania. The last named gentleman is also to help the Foster cause in Ohio.

The Maine election has left an unusual heritage of bitterness after it. Both democrats and greenbackers blame each other for the defeat, the democrats showing that their party made large gains, while the greenbackers claim credit for the victory last year and say that fusion with the democrats killed the party this year. One greenback paper turns its rooster upside down with the legend "Fusion Did It."

Now, See what you have Done.

Washington Post, Dem.

Having consummated the preliminary arrangements for losing the great and important state of New York—our only hope in case Ohio goes against us in October—to the democratic party this fall and also next year, Messrs Samuel J Tilden and John Kelly are now privileged to lay back and contemplate their work.

Carrier Pigeons.

From the New York Evening Post.

Carrier pigeons flew the other day from Florence to London—270 miles—in about five hours and a half. It is suggested that they be taken by outward bound vessels and sent home with reports of the weather. These reports might be of great service to mariners about to start on voyages.

Among the latter were 1000 lbs of meat.

Lewiston Teller: On that portion of the prairie beyond Craig's mountains, known as the Mason prairie, a country occupied by many different bands of sheep, owned by as many different persons, a fire occurred which would have given impulse to the passions of an artist or fired the soul of some descriptive writer. At this season of the year the abundance of grasses, so thrifty throughout that portion of the country are well matured and dry, and from the camp fires last week a sudden gust of wind having come up, so unusual in that country the grass was ignited the fire spreading rapidly, encircling the country for miles, terrifying men and sheep beyond description. This tragic movement of many thousand head of sheep to avoid the approach of fire, and the corps of sheep men fighting the fire with blankets presented a scene of peculiar interest. The battle lasted for four days during which time some valuable timber was burned and an abundance of feed destroyed, the men having conquered the elements and protected their sheep without loss.

NEWS NOTES FROM THE SOUND.

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.]

SEATTLE Oct 2 1879.

The mill at Utsalady is running on full day time.

Messrs Hendricks & Cook have the contract for the plumbing and gas fitting in Squire's new Opera House.

Considerable quantities of salmon are now being sent down from this city to Mukilteo for the cannery at that place.

Dr A Milliken, a prominent physician of San Mateo, California, has recently opened an office and settled down in this city.

The old Morrill drug store building on Commercial street will soon be opened by parties from Olympia for a wholesale oyster house.

Mr Fox, present proprietor of the railroad iron work, and formerly of Portland has secured the contract for fitting the drying apparatus at the new barrel factory.

A large number of our citizens left here last evening to attend the Oregon State Fair. An equally large number will also attend our territorial fair at Olympia which opens to day.

Mr Gage of Skagit City informs us that very favorable news has recently been received from the Ruby creek mines. The miners it appears have got down to bed rock and are finding it rich.

Two half breed boys while ascending the Skagit river recently capsized and swam nearly a mile down the river before the current unable to reach the shore, when one of them becoming exhausted sank beneath the surface and was drowned. The body was recovered on the first of the week some distance from where he was last seen.

The following base ball nine from Snohomish city and members of the Pacific Base Ball club, left here last evening on the steamer Nellie for the capital city to play at the regular annual base ball tournament to take place there during fair week: J Jackson H Jackson H A Moore W Irvin J Hinkley H Pike C Morgan G Blackman A Clifford.

We are informed by a gentleman from La Conner that considerable damage to grain has been done in that section by the recent rains. The farmers are only about two thirds through with their threshing [illegible] and the unthreshed grain is all stacked in the fields exposed to the weather. Some twelve threshers [illegible] are now in active operation in that locality.

Some months ago a man named Frank Hogan was arrested in this city on a charge of vagrancy and sentenced to several weeks of hard labor on the streets. After working a few days Hogan made his escape and has since been stopping on Bainbridge island. It seems that his whereabouts were known to Policeman Thorndike, now at Oregon City as a witness in the Hagar murder case, as he telegraphed to Officer McGraw soon after his arrival there instructing him to proceed to Bainbridge island and [illegible] Hogan and send him to Oregon City where his testimony was also wanted in the same case. Mr McGraw had no difficulty in finding Hogan, and after some hesitation on the part of the latter induced him to come to this city, promising him immunity from arrest and promising to send him off on the outgoing steamer for Oregon. Hogan had no sooner landed here, however than he was arrested and again put to work on the streets where he is still detained. The mayor being absent, it is now considered impossible to secure his release in time for him to put in an appearance at the Hagar trial. It seems that Hogan, while confined in the jail here overheard some conversation between Bernard and another prisoner, tending to criminate the former, and it is for this reason that his testimony is wanted.

THE STATE FAIR.

Nineteenth Annual Exhibition of the Oregon State Agricultural Society—Gathering of the Bone and Sinew of the Country—The Outlook and the Present Situation.

[illegible], October 2 1879.

The rain which raged all day Tuesday soaking the earth with water, dampening the ardor of the managers of the fair and discouraging visitors and would-be exhibitors, gave place yesterday morning to streaks of alternate sunshine and cloud, replacing the great fears of a bad rainy week by a state of suspense in which the people watched the barometer and the clouds, observed the wind when it blew, and consulted their almanacs with regard to the changes of the moon and generally were on the qui vive for every hint which would point to the future state of the weather, the usual prognostications closing with the contingent observation that "if the weather shall turn in fair the occasion will be largely attended and in every respect a grand success."

This morning there is heavy fog resting over the country, but as it is not regarded as an omen of rainy weather all hands are busy in preparing for the expected rush and all hearts pleased with the prospect. With a few hours sunshine the ground will be dry enough to render the traveling pleasant. Exhibitors are coming in great numbers and the grounds are a scene of life and activity and there is a large measure of success to the future of the fair.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Among the most important improvements made on the grounds the past year is the new pavilion which is elegant in appearance, well located and arranged and commodious enough to answer the purposes of the society for several years to come, furnishing ample room for all who may desire to avail themselves of its shelter for exhibition or protection against the rains. As your readers are aware the pavilion has not been erected solely at the expense of the society but largely if not entirely by the liberality and enterprise of the citizens of Salem and vicinity to whose enterprise it will stand as a monument to the delight of all who visit the grounds.

AROUND THE GROUNDS.

To-day there is an encouraging degree of activity and as the day wears away more life is noticeable everywhere although the number of those who come merely to "see the sights" is not yet very large.

There is now, as heretofore a large number of business places on the grounds most of them dealing in the luxuries of life, such as drinkables of all kinds, confectionery, oysters, fruits, notions and nicknacks. The spare cash of the visitors will not weigh heavily on their pockets for lack of opportunity to invest. The games and side shows have not opened out yet but will probably be in full blast to-morrow. There will be numerous places of entertainment on the grounds, among which the most prominent at present are Hill's minstrels and dramatic troupe and Morris's varieties both of which will be opened to-night. Mr Welch will exhibit a prodigy toward the close of the week new in Oregon being nothing less than a woman with two heads, two sets of limbs and one body. There are dog shows, trained horse shows, monkey shows etc. ample to prevent interest on this point lagging.

At Salem where the people go in crowds when nightfall comes John Maguire, with a talented dramatic company occupies Reed's Opera House, intending to present during the continuance of the fair a series of interesting dramas, which will be put on the stage with all the ability necessary to render this the leading place of amusement. Miss Lillian Andrews, a charming actress, assumes leading female and Mr Ward leading male characters both of whom stand high in the profession and will draw large houses.

INCIDENTALS.

The Aurora restaurant, an essential feature of the fair to the hungry visitor is up to its former good reputation for furnishing sustenance of a substantial character for the inner man.

The number of entries to-day is about as great as usual the first days of the fair. Outside of the pavilion we have had but little time to examine articles on exhibition. Inside there is more life to-day and though we cannot say that the pavilion is filling up it is evident that this department will be quite full judging by the number of people who are hammering and all about us, fixing up their respective stands.

The indefatigable secretary, E M Waite Esq, is in good heart to-day and is exceedingly busy attending to the numerous duties devolving upon him. He is assisted by a large corps of clerks among whom are a number of handsome young ladies. The officers generally are doing all in their power to arrange for a harmonious, orderly and successful fair. Mr Geo S Dowling chief marshal is active and commands a force of deputies sufficient to suppress all disorderly conduct or rowdyism of which none has been manifested yet. Marshal Minto of Salem is also prepared to interrupt any attempts upon the peace and dignity of the capital city.

In conclusion there is much in the general situation of matters to-day and especially this afternoon to encourage the managers of the fair, and all are cheerful and contented with the prospect. The rush in a day or two will likely be great. This has been a more pleasant day than any day of the fair last year.

THE RACES TO DAY

Made the most exciting feature of the fair so far. The first was a single dash of three-quarters of a mile for a premium of $160, in which in addition to the entries mentioned in our dispatch, were Sixty seven entered by —, and Mattie Glide a sorrel mare, entered by J G Baskett. The judges were Wm Bigham, Geo H Thomas and J C Tolman; timer, J W Nesmith, S G Owen and J A Porter. The assignment of places was in the following order: Sank Owens, Ole, Sixty six, Jingo, Popeye, Mattie Glide, Sixty seven and Mayflower; Sank Owens having the pole and Mayflower the outside.

The start was a very good one, the horses getting off in a bunch on the second score, but in the first quarter it was seen that the contest was between the Mayflower, Sank Owens and Ole with doubts between the first two named with chances in favor of Sank for the first quarter when the gallant Mayflower began to close up the gap and on the second quarter made up all there was between her and Sank and at the beginning of the third quarter the two were neck and neck with the tide in Mayflower's favor. Down the home stretch they made a fine run, Mayflower coming under the wire about two lengths ahead of Sank with Ole a good third and the rest stringing along the track for fifty yards, the horse Sixty-six—favorite in the pools—sixth in the race.

Mr Thomas of Walla Walla who was spokesman for the judges displayed a knowledge of the proprieties of the race course which we hope to see observed in the contests throughout the fair. He is prompt and decisive, and great confidence is felt that honesty and fair dealing will be characteristic of all the races which may be run under the same authorities as this.

In the trot, mile heats, 3 in 5 for a premium of $[illegible] for double team the entries as telegraphed were Reed's Parrot and Pedro driven by [illegible] Lindsey, Kennedy's Bellfounder and Katie Lynch driven by James Welch, and Misner's Nellie Patchen and Lady Faustina, driven by Misner, their positions being in the order above named. After several scores with the same judges and timers they got off on the first heat with only a reasonably fair start, Parrot and Pedro taking the lead from the word go, Bellfounder and Katie close on them. Patchen and Faustina had the worst of it in the start and seemed to be slow in getting down to their work which, however, they did in good style about the close of the half which was reached in 1:2[illegible]. Beginning the second half it was plainly seen that the first heat was between Parrot and Pedro and Patchen and Faustina with appearances favoring the former. The last half was for blood, and each of the two leading teams did their best, Parrot and Pedro coming under the wire in 2:4[illegible] with Patchen and Faustina close on their heels and Bellfounder and Katie a tolerably good third.

The second heat was much like the first, Patchen and mate losing on the first half and by a hard struggle nearly recovering it on the second. Parrot and Pedro's heat in [illegible].

On the third heat the start was fair, but all three teams broke, [illegible] first taking the lead then Patchen and Faustina then Bellfounder and Katie, each doing some irresponsible running but Patchen and Faustina overdid the thing and were adjudged distanced, the second place being given to Bellfounder and Katie in [illegible]. Patchen and Faustina were sent to the stable and Parrot and mate are preparing to contest the next heat with Bellfounder and Katie as the mail closes.

Patchen and Faustina were the favorites in the pools at about [illegible] up to the close of the [illegible] heat. The race will in all probability be won by Parrot and Pedro. (Note—A later report states that Parrot and Pedro won the last heat [illegible].) The races were fairly conducted by the judges and President Wilkins has subserved [illegible] interests by putting in men who are determined to compel fairness.

Mayflower, winner of the running race to-day, owned by M C Lownsdale of Portland is a [illegible] years old, sired by [illegible] and is half sister to Billy Bigham [illegible] the Oregon [illegible] to-morrow's races not named.

[illegible]

The new pavilion has been filling up rapidly, [illegible] exhibitors forming the more pleasing portion of the exhibits. The old pavilion is about half filled with agricultural implements, wagons etc.

The pleasant weather of to-day drew about a thousand visitors and the managers and exhibitors are in splendid spirits. The road between the fair grounds and the city is in fine order. A large crowd is looked for to-morrow. Everything will be in order by to-morrow noon and all available space probably taken.

E M Waite Esq, the efficient secretary has the following corps of assistants: J [illegible] N [illegible] Steeves, J [illegible] Frazer, Geo Peebles, J Cox, J A B[illegible], [illegible] A Sellwood, A L Buckingham, T B [illegible] [illegible] Cole and Misses Florence Warner, Florence Adair, Ada [illegible], Marie D'Arcy and Alice Springer.

Homer Halleck has charge of the telegraph office in the secretary's room and L G Adair of the W U T Co's office.

The Young Men's Christian Association building has been put in good repair, new seats made, new walks leading to the building, a new and large platform for speakers and singers has been provided, a sleeping room for the workers has been built in the attic, and all looks bright and clean. Gospel services commence to-morrow (Friday) at noon.

A very rich gold bearing quartz vein has been discovered eighty-two miles east of Spokan Falls on the Mullan trail. The find has created considerable excitement.

BUCKINGHAM & HECHT THE COUNTER & SEAM PROTECTOR TRADE MARK HERCULES PATENTED MAY 21 1878

In this boot the counter is covered by a piece of leather extending from under the sole to some three inches above the upper edge of the counter or in other words the counter is between the leather of the boot and the protector and is not exposed either on the outside or the inside of the boot, consequently the heel does not touch it at all, thus one of the greatest objections to boots—the trouble of getting the heel over the counter or stiffening—is removed. This is an object of great importance to the consumer, both in economy and comfort. On this point we need only appeal to the thousands who wear boots.

HERCULES.

Another advantage gained by this arrangement is that the same piece of leather that covers and protects the counter also extends beyond the side seams covering those seams thereby greatly increasing their strength. Again in the old style boot the leg is liable to sag or fall around the ankle, but in "The Hercules Boot" this is rendered less liable by the counter protector as it doubles the leather at the point where the sagging usually takes place.

All boots—men's, boys and youths'—may be manufactured with this improvement, though it is most desirable in heavy boots where great strength is required.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 3, 1879.

RELATION OF PORTLAND TO THE COUNTRY.

We agree, decidedly, with the author of a communication in to-day's OREGONIAN that the river channel from Portland to the sea should be deepened, and that work should be pushed thereon with all speed. Now that the work has been commenced on a plan which promises good results, there should be no abatement of effort till a channel of sufficient depth is completed. Of course this matter will receive the attention of our delegation in congress. Its paramount importance is obvious. Yet we cannot urge this to the exclusion of necessary improvements elsewhere on the ground that Portland's real estate requires it, without putting our city in a selfish position before the rest of the country. True, the commerce of the whole Columbia slope will be benefited by a deep channel from Portland to the sea. True, also, such deep channel is indispensable to the general commerce of the country. At the same time certain improvements are greatly needed in other places on our rivers. Even now vessels can and do reach Portland, and we can ship the produce of the country from here, though we greatly need a deeper channel and must have it. While we have not yet the facilities for deep vessels which we require, it should not, however be forgotten that there are localities contributing much to the business of our city, which at this time, when their produce ought to be marketed, have no facilities at all. We put these things in this way because THE OREGONIAN is not solely a journal of Portland and Western Oregon. It is to the country east of the mountains that Portland must look mainly for the development that is to make her a great city. She must extend her vision and realize what the country is and what it needs. Portland's main dependence is the water-way of the Columbia and its tributaries. While the Northern Pacific railroad may make its connection across from the Columbia to the Missouri within four years, neither that road nor any other is likely to be built to Portland within that time. Let it be granted that no effort will be relaxed to secure needful appropriations for deepening the channel from Portland to the sea; but while we are looking to the one great outlet of commerce let us not forget the numerous tributaries by which it flows in upon us. All this is not for Portland alone. The future of the city depends solely on the general growth and development of the country; and if aid is withheld from the country so that production meets no assistance or encouragement, what right have we to suppose that the city will have that marvelous growth which is the dream of those who give up their days and nights to forecasting its mighty future?

MONOPOLY TARIFF.

Since the object of every protective tariff is to make commodities scarce and dear, that is, to drive foreign products wholly or partly out of our market and enable protected tradespeople to exact such prices as they like, it follows that the policy of protection creates monopoly. Such is the object of those who uphold it, and such is its result. What is monopoly? A standard writer on economics defines it as "such control of the supply of any desirable object as will enable its holder or producer to determine its price without appeal to competition." This definition exactly fits the subject before us. Every duty levied for protection has for its object just such control of supply. When the law places a duty of this kind on any article it says to the consumer: "You shall not buy this article abroad at the price upon which you and the foreign producer may agree. You must pay the price and the duty besides. And you are required to pay the duty in order that the home producer of the same article may be relieved from the necessity of competing on equal terms with the foreign producer; in order that he may demand a price greater by the amount of the duty, approximately, than he could get under free competition. That is, the law gives certain persons control of the supply of commodities and enables them to exact their price. That is, again, it creates monopoly, and consumers have no choice but to submit. Protection takes the side of the buyer against the seller and of the producer against the consumer. This is tariff monopoly, otherwise called "protection," and sugared over with various elaborate and deceptive arguments. By insidious, and yet by most certain methods, it takes our hard earnings and bestows them on protected wealth. But it is said the money we pay in high prices goes in large part to working people. Is one class of our working people entitled to more favor than another? At best, why should our working classes here be taxed to support working classes of the east? Is the protective policy designed to create and perpetuate a huge pauper system? If so, better call it by its right name at once. But in fact protection is not maintained in the interest of labor, but in the interest of capital. The system owes its existence solely to the influence of capital on legislation.

RAINFALL.

Many interesting statements and useful comparisons as to temperature, rainfall and other weather phenomena may be gathered from the report of the chief signal officer for the year 1878, recently issued. The comparisons as to rainfall are especially worthy of notice by those who have obtained the impression that our annual rainfall in Oregon and Washington exceeds that of any other part of the United States. For the year ended June 30, 1878, the rainfall at Portland, Oregon, was 59.16 inches. At Albany, N. Y., it was 44.50 inches; at Chicago, Ill., 45.05; at Charleston, S. C., 68.62; at Boston, Mass. 54.88; at Erie, Pa., 50.01; at Galveston, Texas, 67.47; at Lynchburg, Va., 50.14; at Milwaukee, Wis., 49.66; at Memphis, Tenn., 63.50; at Montgomery, Ala., 35.84; at New Haven, Conn., 56.06; at Nashville, Tenn., 61.92; at Vicksburg, Miss., 60.26, and at Wilmington, N. C., 56.12.

The average of all these points is greater than the rainfall at Portland. It will be seen that the heaviest rainfall is at points in the southern states, the annual precipitation for that whole region being greater than for any considerable area at the north. But it may surprise many here and elsewhere who have become accustomed to the idea that we have much more rain than any other part of the country, to observe that at Boston there is nearly as much as here; that Newport, New Haven and Sandy Hook are still less behind our quantity, and that Erie, Pa., and Milwaukee, Wis., come up well in the table towards the amount we receive. The city of New York has 42.68 inches, against our 59.16. We don't get as much rain here as most localities in the southern states, and there are many places on the northern Atlantic slope which, as the above figures show, are not very far behind our amount.

The New York World is troubled with doubts, yet cautiously states them. It doesn't want to admit that there is general bulldozing at the south, and yet it fears the fact can't be successfully denied. It tells the "young men of the south," that is, those spirited blades who quell political opposition with the shot-gun, that there are really a great many intelligent northern voters who seriously fear that a purpose exists among southern men to "solidify the south" by a shot-gun policy, and it warns them that the north [illegible] to such a policy, should carry [illegible] And is it possible [illegible] political discussion free in every southern state? Is there or is there not a free press everywhere in the southern country? Do such antagonisms in the south as result in [illegible] or lead to crime grow solely [illegible] out of political differences? The [illegible] is nevertheless that it is not completely and accurately informed about these things. That journal, we may suppose, has declined hitherto to listen to testimony on these subjects, and is but just now waking up. It seems [illegible] however, when a leading journal of the party which encourages a solid south and counts on it as its party's sole hope, is forced at last to question the methods by which the south is solidified. This is an indication of profound impression which the present attitude of the south is making on the northern mind. The voice of indignation on such a subject must swell to a roar before a journal like the World could be brought to take notice of it.

Gen. Butler has received the nomination from three conventions for the governorship of Massachusetts—the greenbackers, the democrats and so called independent republicans. To keep up the fight against him there remains only the regular republican party, and it is therefore confidently predicted that he will this year at last reach the goal he has so long and persistently sought. But votes are not multiplied by dividing them up under various party names. Everybody who was for greenbacks, everybody who was for states' rights, everybody who didn't like the republicans, voted for Butler last year, yet he was roundly defeated. He will get only the same elements this year that he had last; and the same element will be against him, reinforced by all those whom returning good times has awaked from the dream of greenbackism and the nightmare of socialism. There is a rising tide of republicanism this year in all the northern states, and not least in Massachusetts. This tide which even at its ebb overthrew Butler, will pretty surely in its flow overwhelm the bold Benjamin altogether, and perhaps carry him out to sea.

Joseph's band of Nez Perces are again represented as greatly dissatisfied with their present situation on the Salt fork of Arkansas river. They complain of the unhealthy location of their reservation, and declare that they may as well die in an endeavor to reach their old home in the northwest as to waste away with disease in a strange country. But the probability is that if they were back at their old home in the northwest they would find it far more unhealthy than their present locality. Something like thirty or forty of the principal ones are now under indictment for murder in Nez Perce county, Idaho.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—12:30 A. M.—For North Pacific, cloudy or partly cloudy weather with rain.

CITY.

EMILY MELVILLE COMING.—John Maguire, [illegible] his maxim of giving the best talent [illegible] to the theater goers of Portland, has with his usual enterprise engaged the Emily Melville opera company. This is not a [illegible] engagement. The expenses attending [illegible] are more than double those of a good dramatic company, independent of [illegible] donna, whose salary alone would [illegible] week for a good dramatic stock company. These are the principals: Tenors, [illegible] bassos, etc., which go to make up [illegible] opera. But John Maguire says [illegible] no risk in his enterprise. My experience of Portland is this: "The public have liberally patronized me when I gave [illegible] genuine first class attraction, which I [illegible] as often as possible. Only when such [illegible] to be had, and the attractions offered [illegible] in certain instances as meritorious [illegible] rumor had made them, was there [illegible] financial loss." The company open [illegible] the 12th, and there is no question of [illegible] in this city.

[illegible]—The testimony in the case [illegible] vs. James A. King, indicted for the [illegible] of Mrs. Hagar, closed at Oregon City [illegible] at 11 o'clock. The opening argument in behalf of the state was made by District Attorney M. F. Mulkey, [illegible] a very strong and logical appeal, [illegible] for two hours and a quarter. He [illegible] by Mr. E. Mendenhall, who appeared for the defendant. Mr. Mendenhall [illegible] the jury for nearly three hours, and [illegible] behalf of the prisoner was very [illegible] to that young attorney. At the [illegible] Mr. Mendenhall's argument the court [illegible] until 3 P. M. On convening, District Attorney Caples began to make the concluding argument in behalf of the commonwealth. [illegible] the train passed Oregon City last [illegible] Judge Caples was addressing the jury [illegible] and effective style. The case [illegible] the jury last night.

[illegible] WONDER.—Mlle. Christine, the "double-headed girl" arrived in [illegible] by the steamer Oregon en [illegible] state fair. A party of physicians visited her yesterday at the Clarendon. She has bodily only one person, [illegible] possessed of two heads, two [illegible], four arms, and two pairs [illegible] curiously with one [illegible] moves about she looks like [illegible] copper-colored girls tied [illegible] the middle. In the same dress, [illegible] so as to display the movement [illegible] feet. The busts of each are symmetrical; the heads and [illegible] and arms are perfect. The [illegible] bright and intelligent; eyes [illegible]; hair black and glossy. After [illegible] from the fair she will be exhibited [illegible].

[illegible] ANNIVERSARY.—The Sentinel [illegible] the thirty third anniversary of the [illegible] Right Rev. A. M. A. Blanchet, [illegible] was celebrated with [illegible] in the cathedral, Vancouver. [illegible] Very Rev. E. Junger, V. [illegible] celebrant at the high mass [illegible], assisted by Rev. L. Veer[illegible] and Rev. J. S. White as sub[illegible] Blanchet, in cape and [illegible] the throne in the sanctuary, [illegible] as assistant priest. [illegible] in the church congregat[illegible] paid to Bishop Blanchet by [illegible] the Sisters of Charity, the [illegible] the pupils of the college and [illegible].

[illegible] FAIR.—Wednesday evening a [illegible] board of directors of the Me[illegible] held at the office of H. B. [illegible]. It was decided to open [illegible] the public at 3 P. M. [illegible] Catlin and H. B. Nicholas were [illegible] Gen. Grant at the Fair.

[illegible] MOVEMENTS.—Under the [illegible] Movements," the San Francisco [illegible] Sept. 28 says: "General Grant [illegible] Senator Sharon on the 9th of [illegible] for Oregon by the St. Paul [illegible] service by the Alaska Company [illegible] the following day." E. [illegible] having been reappointed by the con[illegible] tendered a reception and supper [illegible] auspices of the Young People's So[illegible] Friday evening. Addresses were [illegible] Rev. J. C. Briggs, R. L. Hartford, [illegible] Benson and Mr. Anthony.

[illegible]—The Astorian of yes[illegible] Capt. J. D. Biles of the Oregon [illegible] Company returned yesterday from San Francisco. Capt. Biles was one [illegible] personal friends of Gen. Grant when [illegible] Oregon, and his visit to the bay [illegible] more for the purpose of meeting [illegible] associate than anything else. [illegible] recognized Mr. Biles at sight, and [illegible] about his many friends here.

AN OLD MATTER AGAIN.

THE QUESTION OF PAYING P. G. BAKER FOR IMPROVING E STREET AGAIN BEFORE THE COUNCIL—JUDGE BELLINGER'S INJUNCTION.

As the ordinance which authorizes an appropriation out of the general fund, and transferring it to the E street fund, is again before the council, it may not be improper to publish the injunction which was granted by Judge Bellinger some time ago. It will be remembered that some time since the petition of P. G. Baker for pay for work done on E street was referred to the committee on ways and means. Wednesday evening the committee (that is, a majority of the committee) submitted a report, in which the recommendation was made that the sum of $868 75, and interest from date, be paid to Baker, as in the opinion of the committee, he was clearly entitled to receive that amount. This report was adopted and the ordinance making the requisite transfer from the general to the E street fund was introduced and passed to its second reading:

The following is the injunction:

D. P. Thompson, plaintiff, vs. the city of Portland; W. S. Newbury, mayor, R. L. Durham, auditor and clerk, and Joseph Bachman, treasurer of said city of Portland, defendants.

This cause having been heretofore argued and submitted upon defendants' demurrer to plaintiff's complaint herein, and the court having taken the same under advisement, and now on this day being fully advised herein, overrules said demurrer, and said defendants now appearing by their attorney, as heretofore, and declining to further plead to plaintiff's bill of complaint, and it appearing to the court that the allegations of plaintiff's said bill of complaint are true; and that said plaintiff is entitled to the relief in said complaint prayed for, it is therefore ordered, adjudged and decreed by the court that the provisional injunction heretofore issued herein be and the same hereby is made perpetual; that said defendants and each and every one of them, their agents, servants, deputies and successors be and they are hereby forever enjoined and perpetually restrained from issuing, signing or delivering any warrant in favor of P. G. Baker for the payment of the sum of $88 75 as provided by ordinance No. 2389 of the city of Portland, in plaintiff's complaint mentioned, or any warrant for the payment of the claim of said P. G. Baker, mentioned in said ordinance, and from paying said or any warrant for said or any sum issued on account of said claim out of any fund of said city of Portland, except the fund for the improvement of E street, in the complaint mentioned, and derived from the ordinance for the improvement of said street. And it is further adjudged and decreed that plaintiff have and recover of and from the defendants his costs and disbursements, taxed at $83.

WM. SCHEFFLER'S ST. HELENA

SANITARY, VACUUM DISTILLED GRAPE BRANDY AND GOOD OLD EDGE HILL WINES.

Mr. Scheffler is sole proprietor of the principle known as the vacuum process of distilling, by which the fusil oils are left with the residue and not incorporated with the brandy, leaving it pure and free from all deleterious substances which does and must exist in all alcoholic liquors distilled by the usual process of boiling heat. California Physicians have pronounced their preference of it to all other. Doctor Cox, government revenue officer at Cincinnati, Ohio, says in his report, that after ten years' of close investigation he can safely say that very few, if any, pure wines or brandy are exported from the Old Continent to this. He has found none in his many analyses—that all are doctored before leaving France. The French Consul at Buenos Ayres writes home to his government that so much complaint is made there of the appearance of litharge and other dangerous drugs in all their French wines, that there is great danger of losing the trade of the Argentine States. Other proofs could be cited, were it necessary, to prove the superiority of the best class of California wines and brandy. Orders from responsible parties, addressed to Wm. Scheffler, or Geo. H. Beach, St. Helena, Napa county, Cal., will receive prompt attention.

Smoke Richmond Gem Cigarettes.

Dr. Slade will be at the Chemeketa House, Salem, during the Fair.

An increasing trade indicates that Barnes, 65 First street, is serving up oysters, etc., in good style.

The large stock of Comstock & Pfluger's is being sold at cost. Many are taking advantage of the circumstances.

As a tonic, and for all nervous complaints, Simmonds' "Nabob Whisky" is unequaled. To be had at all druggists and grocers.

DR. WARNER'S HEALTH CORSETS.—Mrs. I. M. Du Bois & Co., No. 165 Third street, sole agents for the northwest; sub agents wanted.

R. C. Janion & Co. beg to recommend to the trade Ind Coope & Co's India Pale Ale, and the celebrated "Pig Brand," (Guinness') Porter.

We noticed that Jackson, 53 First street, has opened his new brand, the St. George cigar. They are fine, as are also the St. Denis and St. Andrew. Try them as you go to the cars.

Just arrived—A large stock of health, misses' and other corsets, and children's waists, also a fine assortment of ladies' underwear, jewelry, etc., at Mrs. J. M. DuBois & Co.'s, 165 Third street, near Morrison.

Her sisters, cousins and aunts were not satisfied until Abell gave each a nd all a sitting at his famous Gallery, which is becoming more popular daily.

Nabob Whisky is recommended by the faculty for family and medical use. It is pure and is the best whisky on the Pacific coast for indigestion, nervousness and dyspepsia.

D. W. Prentice & Co. have just received the last invoice of a new and select stock of sheet music, comprising the latest and best music from large publishers both in Europe and this country. This together with their already large stock gives them by far the largest selection in that line ever brought to this city.

STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

SALEM, Oct. 2, 1879.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

After the usual religious exercises, the convention proceeded to the consideration of the topic assigned for the session, "The Aims of Sunday School Work." The session proved interesting and profitable, the discussion being participated in by Reverends Gransden, Dickinson, Baker, Henderson, Coates, Wells, Irwin, Atkinson, Dr. J. C. Gilbert, Mr. Alfred Kinney, Mrs. E. S. Stubbs and others.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

"Our Resources" was the topic of this session and occupied the rest of the time of the session. The international series of lessons being one of the subdivisions of the topic, Rev. E. S. James, Dexter Horton, Wm. Wellmans, Reverends Wells and Baker, took part in the discussion. Mr. Horton illustrating on the blackboard a simple plan of teaching the subdivisions of the bible to the children.

The statistical secretary made a report of such statistics as he had come into possession of, and was authorized to take sufficient time to make them as complete as possible before publication.

The corresponding secretary elect, Rev. Dr. Atkinson, stated his inability to serve during another year as corresponding secretary, and offered his resignation. The convention, while acknowledging the laborious services performed by the secretary during the past year, seemed totally disinclined to let him off altogether, and a compromise was effected by which he retains the position and yet is to be relieved largely of the clerical labor.

The executive committee of the past year was re-elected and the committee enlarged by the addition of Rev. A. S. Coates, Rev. Mr. Wells (the statistical secretary) and E. J. Northrup.

Portland was selected as the place at which to hold the next convention.

EVENING SESSION.

The topic "Possibilities" was opened by a carefully prepared paper by J. K. Gill on "Improved Sabbath School Organization." Prof. Sneff, of Philomath, made a short address on "Improved Methods of Teaching," and T. McF. Patton read an interesting essay on "The Possibilities," and the subject was discussed briefly by Prof. Jones, Revs. Coates, Atkinson, Dillon and Baker, and Messrs. Northrup and Wadsams.

A resolution was passed thanking the citizens of Salem for entertainment afforded members of the convention; also to the Congregational Church for the use of their building.

The president made a closing address, urging faithfulness, earnestness and fidelity upon the sabbath school workers. A parting hymn was sung, the benediction pronounced and the seventh state Sunday school convention was declared adjourned sine die.

The severe storm of Tuesday, the first day of the session, no doubt prevented the attendance of many who would otherwise have come from abroad, and the excitement, bustle and stir in the business circles, as well as in the homes of the people of Salem, no doubt accounted for the slim attendance at the convention especially on Tuesday. On Wednesday the attendance increased. At each of the three sessions, and at the closing session on Wednesday, quite a large audience was present.

Probably there never was with but perhaps one exception, a Sunday school convention in this state more thoroughly worked up and prepared for than was this. A programme of a most excellent character was arranged, and speakers provided, as was supposed in nearly every case. It was well advertised, in the Portland papers at least, and yet it has hardly come up to our expectations, so far as attendance is concerned. To those who did attend it was a success, more so in practical thought and suggestion than many other conventions of like character held in this state. This, I think, is the verdict of all who have been present during the whole convention.

The next convention will be held in Portland, where it is now coming to be well understood we are more centrally located for a convention that includes Oregon, and Washington and Idaho territories, than at any other point, and where more effective workers can be relied on to make the preliminary arrangements for a convention.

No minutes in pamphlet form will be issued this year, but the statistical report with a summary of the proceedings will hereafter be given to the press.

FALSE IMPRESSION.

It is generally supposed by physicians and the people generally that Dyspepsia cannot invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint in all its forms, such as Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Sick Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, bad taste in the mouth &c. Out of the 30,000 dozen bottles sold last year not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. For sale by Hodge, Davis & Co.

DR. MINTIE'S "SPECIAL" MEDICINES

Are made from the best materials obtainable. They are not cure alls. They are favorite prescriptions that have been tried and tested for years in his extensive practice, until now they are absolutely perfect in the troubles for which they are recommended.

The NEPHRETICUM works wonders in Kidney and Bladder complaints. Those suffering with Dropsy, Bright's disease, Diabetes, Gravel, Retention of urine, Pain in the back, Incontinence, or any disease of the Kidney and Bladder, will be astonished at the relief one bottle will afford.

For Female weakness it is absolutely without an equal.

For all derangements of the Liver,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

For Biliousness and Dispepsia,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

For Fever and Ague,
Use Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Liver Pills.

Every family should keep the Dandelion Pills on hand.

See what the druggists say about Dr. Mintie's medicines: "Everybody speaks highly of them."—C. H. Woodard & Co., druggists, Portland. "All who take them recommend them."—John A. Child, druggist, Portland. Messrs. Abrams & Carroll, wholesale druggists, San Francisco, say: "We regard Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum as the best Kidney and Bladder remedy before the public." All druggists keep these medicines.

SIR ASTLEY COOPER'S VITAL RESTORATIVE:

The great English remedy—has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Lost Manhood, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, inability for mental labor, despondency, and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined.

It is not a stimulant nor excitant, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quack nostrum, and produces results that are wonderful.

Price, $3 a bottle. Four times the quantity, $10. Buy a bottle. It will not disappoint you. Hodge, Davis & Co., wholesale agents.

MRS. HAMS HAS RESUMED DRESSMAKING at her place opposite the Mechanics' Pavil[illegible]

President Billings has written the letter following to C. A. Hart, [illegible] of Olympia, the date being Sept. 12th:

I am giving all my energies to pushing on the great enterprise, which is now fairly under way again. The work [illegible] on both sides. We will be at the [illegible] miles from Bismarck this season, and [illegible] to Yellowstone early next. Before [illegible] hope to have work [illegible] valley. On your side work will be commenced as soon as [illegible] Sprague gets back, and he is on his way back now. We will be at Spokane Falls certainly next year, and perhaps [illegible]. We [illegible] [illegible] at the mouth of [illegible] Snake. To get a good route over the Cascade range it looks as if we would have to come down to [illegible] the mouth of the Yakima, and so whether we build over the Cascades or down the river we might as well commence at the Snake. I propose to have surveys on the passes of the mountains [illegible] next season and [illegible] facts. I am not prepared to agree with those who favor the river route, and shall continue to believe in the practicability of the direct route to the Sound. The main point is first to convince your people and the world that we are going to build across the continent. This I am sure will be accomplished when we are at the Yellowstone going west and building east from the Columbia river. The next step is to push up on the Yellowstone say 300 miles. This done no matter what happens, the road is certain to be completed. Stages will be put on and mails carried and the route will be opened to travel and settlement. Meanwhile we will have learned all about the mountain route and got stronger for that more expensive part of the road. So let your people no longer be picking at us, harrassing us with taxes, discrediting us, etc. It is a mighty work. So far as I am concerned it shall be carried forward with economy, honesty and energy.

FRIDAY MORNING OCTOBER 3 1879

WRITE THEM A LETTER TO NIGHT

Don t go to the theater concert or bal
But stay in your room to night
Deny yourself to the friends that call
And a good long letter write
Write to the sad old folks at home
Who sit when the day is done
With folded hands and downcast eyes
And think of the absent one

Don t selfishly scribble Excuse my haste
I've scarcely the time to write
Lest their brooding thoughts go wandering back
To many a by gone night—
When they lost their needed sleep and rest
And every breath was a prayer
That God would leave their delicate babe
To their tender love and care

Don t let them feel that you ve no more need
Of their love or counsel wise
For the heart grows strangely sensitive
When age has dimmed the eyes—
It might be well to let them believe
You never forget them quite
That you deem it a pleasure when far away
Long letters home to write.

Don t think that the young and giddy friends
Who make your pastime gay
Have half the anxious thought for you
That the old folks have to day
The duty of writing do not put off
Let sleep or pleasure wait,
Lest the letter for which they looked and longed
Be a day or an hour too late

For the sad old folks at home
With locks fast turning white
Are longing to hear from the absent one—
Write them a letter to night.

RIVER IMPROVEMENTS

PORTLAND, Ogn October 2 1879

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In your editorial on this subject this morning you urge the importance of Portland s at once taking the improvements of Snake river in hand We all admit the necessity for such improvements, and also that when made they will materially promote Portland s trade. But pardon me in saying Charity begins at home,' and the principle that the good which will accrue by public improvements to the greatest number of people at large in preference to that which a small community shall receive for the same amount of public money to be expended should first be adopted.

According to the reports made to the board of trade, the government engineer department at Washington and the Pacific coast board of engineers prefer that the highway to commerce, that is from Portland to the sea, should first be improved, and it is well known that if you take away $100 000 of appropriations yearly for the Snake river you thereby diminish and prevent the improvement from Portland to the sea being previously carried out. Let me ask you the question. If we are to have Atlantic railroad connection at Portland within four years is it not of greater importance to this city and state at large that Portland should have 22 feet of water to meet the foreign trade from the eastern states to China and Australia then coming, than that the Snake river should first be improved. What would be the benefit to Portland of railroad connection with only 18 feet of water? The U S engineer department, in their reports to congress, wisely say: "First improve the great highway of commerce, the lower Willamette and Columbia rivers, and then other minor improvements should be projected" When? Afterwards. Is not this the proper course? I think nine-tenths of the people of Portland will agree with me that it is I cannot imagine why Portland with $24,000 000 of real property, depending on this river improvement for rise or fall in value should sit easily and petition for and allow other appropriations to be passed of no great value, and still refuse to ask for appropriations for the other improvements so much needed at her very doors! THE OREGONIAN represents the interests of this city, and western Oregon, and ought to keep urging the people of this city and our representatives to see that we first have 22 feet of water at our docks before other projects or improvements to inland minor rivers are proceeded with Our farmers and producers of western and eastern Oregon too will gain better prices for their wheat if the government's plans for the permanent improvement of the rivers from Portland to the sea are first proceeded with. The work is estimated to cost only $250 000, and this year contracts for nearly $70 000 have already been let, so that all our people and representatives now require to ask from congress to complete this important work is $180,000 in two yearly equal installments, which, whenever secured, gives Portland 22 feet of water for the largest deep sea vessels now commonly employed, and which improvements the various U. S. engineers tell us they expect to get completed within three years, unless efforts are made in congress to divert to other sources the moneys which ought first to be appropriated and spent on the rivers from Portland to Astoria. I beg of you to urge on your readers the necessity of unanimously petitioning congress for speedily proceeding with this great work, which of itself will double the population of the city of Portland within five years

Yours, &c., MERCHANT

Brother Gardner on Family Government.

[From the Detroit Free Press.]

"Las' night, as de ole woman was grindin' up de butcher-knife to cut her corns, dar cum a knock on de doah," began the president of the Lime-Kiln Club as Paradise Hall grew quiet. "It war de ole man Mosher, an' I could see right away dat he didn't feel in whoopin' specrits. I reckon you all knows de ole man, an you knows he am hard-workin' an' honest. Well he was obedar to see about his son Hunyadius Dat Hunyadus am a powerful bad boy an' I knows it, an' de ole man he sot down an' tole me dat de day had arrove when he could no longer control de boy Yes, he sot dar on de aige of de wood-box an' cried like a chile 'cause dat Hundayus had cum home an' cussed aroun', an' axed for money, an' swar he'd bust de hull family or hev it I axed him how much de boy weighed, an' he looked up at de ceilin' an' said about a hundred an' twenty. Den I pushed de tea kettle furder back on de stove an' I went for dat ole man like a steamboat 'sploshun De ideah of a boy like dat runnin' de house made me mad all de way up an' down, an I tole Mosher if he didn't go hum and an' flop dat Hunyadus outer his butes an' den mop him aroun' till he cried quits, dat he mus' neber darken my gate agin He got up an' he went, an' I was clus behind him. Dat boy was still in de house, slashin' de ole woman aroun' and kickin' de dog under de stove, an' de opportunity was all dat could be axed fur. De ole man lowered in' we tied up to de wayward chile, and de way he made de fur fly tickled me all ober. When I left de winder Hunyadus was wipin' de tears away wid one han' and eatin cold pancakes wid de odder, an' de ole man had such a smile as I havn't seen on his face for more seven years." After the applause had subsided the president continued "Treat your boys kindly an' like a good fadder should, but when a son gits de big head an' imagines dat he kan run de caboose wid out help from de old folks, and dat he am master of his days and nights, sot right down on him like a bag of sand fallin from de roof-top! Let him know who owns de cabin and who brings in de purvishuns"

The Scotch Heresy Case.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

The case of Prof. Smith who has been on trial for heresy in Scotland for several years is not yet disposed of His offense was it will be remembered, the publishing of alleged erroneous opinions about the book of Deuteronomy in an article in the Encyclopedia Britanica on "The Bible There have been hearings, rehearings, amended pleadings demurrers, etc, until scarcely anybody except the members of the presbytery know the way through the tangle It has at last been put in to intelligible shape by being handed over to the general assembly Prof Smith is a learned young man, and has given more offense by exposing the bad scholarship of his elders, and ridiculing their claims to authority, than by teaching heretical doctrine He is up to this point complete master of the situation.
